'Harry Potter: Visions of Magic' Interactive Art Experience Comes To Singapore

Trinity Sun March 27, 2024 2 min read

The Wizarding World continues to come to life in Singapore, and following the Harry Potter: A Forbidden Forest Experience trail in Sentosa, Resorts World will play host to the new Harry Potter: Visions of Magic interactive art experience this fall.

Singapore will also host the Asia premiere of the experience, which is likely to come to other Asian countries soon. Harry Potter: Visions of Magic made its debut in Cologne, Germany on 8 December 2023, and will run until 2 June 2024 before making its way to Singapore.

Venture into the Wizarding World as Harry Potter: Visions of Magic takes visitors on a tour through the Room of Requirement, Newt's Menagerie, the Ministry of Magic, and other iconic locations across a 40,000 square feet venue. Created by Warner Bros. Discovery Global Themed Entertainment and experiential entertainment company NEON, the experience has nearly sold-out tickets for its German leg, and will open pre-sale tickets for its Singapore run soon, with waitlist sign-ups open on its website.

Pricing on its German site runs from S$39.20 (€26.90) for an adult ticket, and S$30.46 (€20.90) for child ticket, so prices will likely be about the same. There is no time limit for the experience, so you can enjoy meandering through the various installations.

We're excited to see what Harry Potter: Visions of Magic is brewing at Resorts World Sentosa, so stay tuned for more updates!
